The Pioneer Society meeting of 1913, assembled in front of the Riverside Church on State Street.

The History Museum of Hood River County is a vibrant center for engaging all people in a better understanding of our community's heritage that preserves the past, relates it to the present and shapes our future. It began with avid collectors of local stories, the 1907 Pioneer Society later morphed into The History Museum of Hood River County. Created in 1978, The History Museum is an active participant in its vibrant multi-cultural community and is led by the Heritage Council, a 501c3 non-profit organization. The Council members are a diverse group who have many cumulative years of experience in education, law, business, retail, social work, government organizations, the arts, historic research, and various other local community cultural and governmental entities. The non-profit Museum brings the region's past and present to life through permanent displays, temporary exhibitions, and programs. The museum holds in trust over 30,000 artifacts, documents, and media that represent the diverse heritage of Hood River County and the Columbia Gorge. We bring to life the stories of all the peoples of this region through education, discussion, and exhibitions. Celebrating and embracing the Hood River County and the mid-Columbia River Gorge area's diverse cultural heritage, preserve its unique story, and continuing to encourage the value of understanding how history shaped the past, impacts the present, and influences the future.

By embarking on this enchanting cruise, you're not only creating memories that will last a lifetime but also supporting a meaningful cause.

Prepare to unlock the secrets of storytelling at sea! Set sail with author Cassie A. H. Moore, traveling through the heart of Alaska, embarking on an adventure for the soul and mind. Cassie will share the tale of her author journey, from discovering historical facts in forgotten archives to transforming them into gripping fiction that transports readers across time. She'll spill the behind-the-scenes insights on how a novel really gets written—character twists that didn't make the cut, surprising revelations, and the art of blending fact and fiction. For those feeling inspired, she'll offer optional writing workshops where participants can dive into hands-on sessions where Cassie guides you through crafting your own travel-inspired stories. Those wanting to dive deeper can receive additional one-on-one coaching, where Cassie will offer private sessions to help bring your imagination to life in a manuscript of your own. Don't miss this rare opportunity to be inspired—your own great story might just begin somewhere between the glaciers and the page.

Imagine capturing the raw beauty of Alaska's untouched wilderness, photographing majestic wildlife in their natural habitat, and discovering creative inspiration while cruising through serene ocean landscapes. This is more than just a trip—it's a journey designed to awaken your creativity, sharpen your skills, and leave you with images that will resonate for years to come. Join accomplished photographers Blaine and Bethany Franger, whose 20+ years in the industry have taken them across the globe—from the depths of the ocean to the peaks of the Himalayas.
